Robert (Bob) Swirsky was a radio operator, tech sgt. for the 3rd Armored Division of the US First Army, seeing front-line combat during the war for 323 days. His halftrack, 3-Baker (an example which is in the diorama), was a part of the army that pushed across Europe from landing at Omaha Beach to the end of the war on VE Day. His service included fighting across Europe from Normandy (D+18) to the liberation of the Nordhausen concentration camp.

He recorded his experiences in the book My War: A Story Which Involves Horror and Humor.
